

Old Wethersfield Shopkeepers
in Historic Village of
Wethersfield

Along Main & Broad Streets

Enter the past with a visit to Historic Wethersfield, Connecticut's "most Ancient" town, where America's heritage is preserved in homes built in the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries. Each year, thousands of people visit the historic sites open to the public. Within the Historic District are quaint shops, restaurants, museums, and two beds and breakfasts, many housed in vintage homes, ancient warehouses, and carriage sheds offering antiques, collectibles, handcrafts, art, jewelry, garden supplies, travel services, breakfast, lunch, and dinners. Most shops are open Tuesday through Saturday; some are open Sunday and Monday; some with extended hours during the Christmas season
